AGAIN
WE ANNOUNCE FOR THE COMING WEEK
5 EXCELLENT FEATURES 5

Tonight, Saturday, January 10.

"A REGIMENT OF TWO." Part I and II.

This two-reel farce made the biggest hit in many months. It is the kind of a farce that fills the house with laughter and its quality lasts through all of both reels. The fun does not wholly depend on the acting, but the work of the players has enriched it and given some of the best things in it. The regiment of two is made up of Harry Morey and Sidney Drew, two husbands who have told their wives that they have joined the noble Thirteenth. It gives them one "drill" night every week. The Thirteenth is called to the front and they get whole month's vacation; but, of course, they have to stay off in uniforms, and such uniforms! The going out and the coming home of these two are screams. The home folks do not pass the time without adventures either, including a burst water pipe in the kitchen and its concomitant flood. There is an English lord, we don't know who plays the role, but he is a thoroughly competent comedian and, equally with Edna Storey, makes one long scene as funny as it is artistic. The picture is a very true feature, there is no doubt of that.

Monday, January 12.

"THE WEAKER MIND." Part I and II.

A good story of every day life written and produced by Romane Fielding. The story includes three families and while a temperance sermon runs through the story it in no way gets on the nerves of the occasional drinker. An excellent feature and clear as a bell.

Wednesday, January 14.

"A BROTHER'S LOYALTY." Part I and II.

Featuring the noted Photoplay star, Francis X. Bushman. "A BROTHER'S LOYALTY" tells a story of fraternal constancy, devotion, and sacrifice that quivers with human appeal from start to finish. Its powerful portrayal of character and its masterly presentation of scenes from the criminal haunts of a great city play upon the heart strings of human emotion with an eloquence of appeal that rends the very soul. "A BROTHER'S LOYALTY" is a genuine motion picture masterpiece—a thrilling photoplay that throbs with strong sentiment and powerful pathos in every virile and vivid scene. The fight in the pool room—the brother's sacrifice—the arrest—the discovery of the counterfeiters' den—the pardon—

Thursday, January 15.

"THE WHITE SLAVE." Part I and II.

Dealing with the balmy days of slavery scenes of which lay in Louisiana comes a story of a white slave, an octopus, whose father and mother dead, is given to the father's brother. The plantation mortgaged and the slave a free woman if it can be met, makes a climax sad but full of realism.

Friday, January 16.

"WAMBA, A CHILD OF THE JUNGLE." Part I and II.

This is another of Selig's wonderful wild animal pictures of Africa. Those who have seen "Alone in the Jungle" will need no more recommendation as this picture is very similar but of course entirely different in story form.
